PRESENTS A TALK

"THE FRENCH CABLE MUSEUM"

MAY 18, 2010 @ 10:00 A.M.

The French Cable Station was "an important link in World War I, between Army headquarters in the U. S. and France." Joseph Manas will present a talk on the history of the Transatlantic Telegraph and the French Cable Station Museum and show a short video produced by the museum. All are welcome to attend a guided tour at the museum of an historic collection of original Atlantic undersea telegraphic cables, instruments, maps, and assorted memorabilia after the program.
